

I see point in starting to make exceptions for anyone in the "do not call" lists. All businesses need to adjust to diferent laws of each state. They have to obey a variety of traffic laws for example. They can do the same with the "do not call" laws.